Poblenou

An industrial neighborhood with a strong collaborative tradition changed by the intense urban transformation process of the Sant Martí district over the last thirty years: the construction of the Olympic Village and the operation of the coast, the 22@ plan, the Operation Forum, transformation of many of its industries, the Superblock project...

STORYLINE

What?

Enhancing Poblenou neighbourhood's industrial heritage sites as knowledge sharing, productive, and creative-driven hubs

How?

By valorizing local manufacturing and bridging the gap between heritage, education, circularity, and communities.

Strategies for social inclusion

THE CHALLENGE

- Increasing number of larger companies occupying existing buildings to develop office-type jobs, associated with services and economic growth
- Lack of connection with the local reality and the local actors
- A need for a common narrative that embrace citizen participation and that considers individual stories to reimagine the future of an inclusive Poblenou.

Strategies for social inclusion

THE MISSION

- To identifying synergies that can be converted into collective actions, increase in community engagement, and social participation
- To explore cross-collaboration with stakeholders and existing initiatives to valorize industrial and cultural heritage as drivers for a wider citizen participation through:
  - events
  - educational programs
  - hands-on workshops

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Inspiring vocational training students to prototype and create solutions for local challenges in Poblenou

- CENTRINNO School course for professors
  - VT professors trained to apply the hackathon methodology in their courses
- CENTRINNO School Hackathon
  - VT students developing ideas through a design thinking methodology

Collective feminine embroidery installation

• To highlight the crucial role of women in the artistic world, recognizing their contribution to the re-signification of textile ancestral techniques, traditionally relegated to the domestic sphere and transferring them to the public.

• Create a space for meeting, where thoughts, words, and emotions can flow freely as a therapeutic and empathetic act.

Connect people through creative traditions and cultural heritage.

• Reclaime areas of work and professions that were traditionally dominated by men due to heteropatriarchal gender biases, including carpentry.

• Promote circular economy and new ways of doing things through collectivity.
